BACK TO WORK—As the tempo of resumed American bombings picked up, Hanoi released this picture of a North Vietnamese anti-aircraft machine gun crew.

STILL PITCHING—California Angels pitcher Dea Chance wields a pitchfork as well as a baseball, keeping fit for spring training with chores on his farm near Wooster, Ohio.

Grade School Open House Successful

The Administration and Teachers of Fulton, Hopewell, Shover Street and Yerger High School, and to the many friends and parents who attended Open House, Sunday, Feb. 6.

The response was highly gratifying and even beyond expectation. Approximately 650 persons went through the classrooms on the various campus of the schools.

There were representatives from every profession and occupation in Hempstead County who availed themselves of the opportunity to see the improvements and facilities, instructional aid and materials that had been provided through funds in Title I of the Elementary and Secondary School Act. Many teachers from schools within and outside of the county were also present.

The general expressions that were made by the visitors was one of amazement but great satisfaction at what had been accomplished in the schools toward providing modern equipment. Teaching Materials and Aid for Up-Grading the Educational achievement of the students.

On display in most of the classrooms were Film Strip Machines, Over Head Projectors, 16 Millimeter Projectors, Tape Recorders, Charts, globes, maps, electric Typewriter, Adding Machines, Shop Tools and Physical Education Equipment.

To add to the Modern Home Economic Department, more than $1300 worth of Electric and other appliances has been added. $16,500 in additional equipment has been placed in the Science Room. All Elementary classrooms have been provided with additional Maps, Charts, Globes and new Text and Reference Books.

Many more items have been purchased which are not listed here, so the public is invited to come out and visit the school at any convenient time.

It is the desire and hope of the School Board and Administration that the end result of the expenditure of this money and the effort that has been put into it will be gratifying and rewarding.

"We trust the students will make full use of these materials in trying to improve themselves and in the end the Community, State and National will reap the benefits of a Better Trained Citizen," said Will V. Rutherford, Principal.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With Viet Nam, Honolulu, Washington, and New Delhi all producing news of war and peace, NBC and CBS dropped regularly scheduled programs Tuesday night to try to sort out the tangled web of opinions, statements and hearsay.

NBC's half-hour special which pre-empted "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," primarily was devoted to summaries of news out of the Honolulu conference between President Johnson and leaders of the South Vietnamese government.

There was also an interview with Secretary of State Dean Rusk explaining once again this nation's interest in so-called reforms in that war-torn country. Then it moved to Washington for highlights from testimony by retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin before the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

The CBS news special, a last-minute substitute for a documentary on Midwestern teenagers, was a more leisurely and introspective survey. Considerable time was given to the questioning of Gavin and to his answers. There were filmed interviews with Secretaries Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor made in Honolulu Monday night. Gen. Taylor's and McNamara's comments on Gavin's so-called "enclave plan" seemed a bit out of focus in light of Gavin's own explanations Tuesday before the committee.

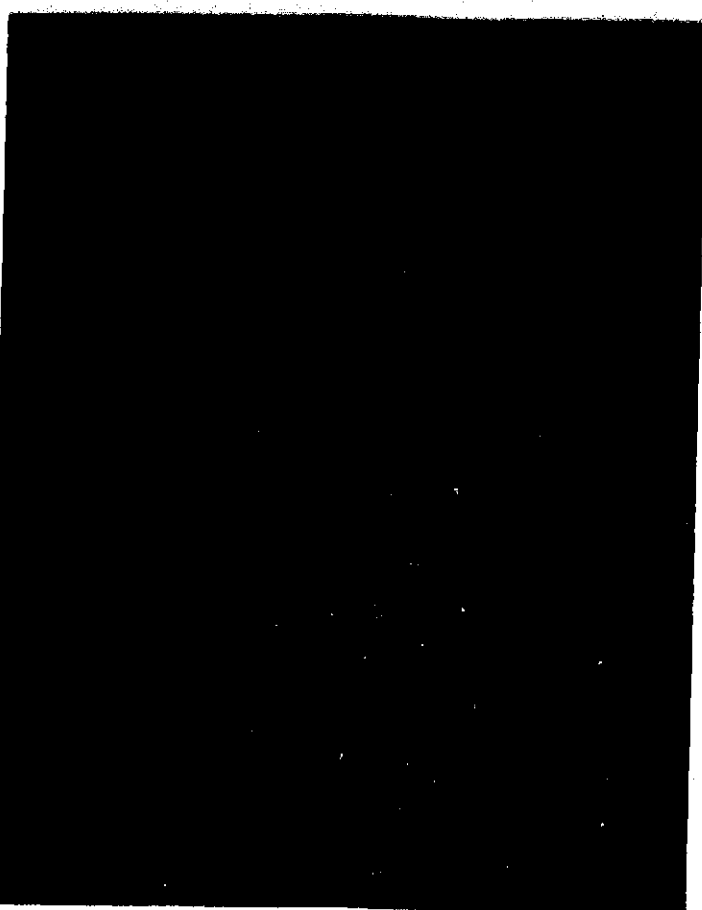

Moderator Walter Cronkite drew from correspondents Marvin Kalb and Pete Kalische their own opinions of the events they had covered in Honolulu.

Commentator Eric Sevareid suggested that the Senate hearings were particularly important because they were raising questions, not only about the conduct of the war, "But formally and officially raising doubts about its justification, its legality and its ultimate outcome."

Mrs. Greenhaw is a senior student at East Texas State University, Commerce where she is majoring in business administration. Mr. Greenhaw, also a senior at ETSU is majoring in technical agriculture.

The couple will be at home in Commerce where they will continue their studies.

Witnesses Tell About Love Affair

By ARTHUR EVERETT
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A stream of state's witnesses say Melvin Lane Powers flaunted a blazing love affair with his aunt, Candace Mossler, before business clients, employees, handymen and jailbirds.

The latest sensation in the bizarre trial of Powers and Mrs. Mossler for the murder of her multimillionaire husband was provided by a witness who said Powers had boasted that he had made Mrs. Mossler pregnant.

Asked how her 69-year-old husband would take this, Powers was quoted in reply: "Well, the old s.o.b. will pop out his chest at having a kid at his age."

Outside of court, Mrs. Mossler said she had been unable to conceive since an operation some years ago.

The trial resumes today. It recessed early Thursday when the state temporarily ran out of witnesses, because of limited cross-examination by the defense.

Mrs. Mossler, who says she will be 40 next week, is on trial for her life with Powers, 29.

The state accuses them of plotting the bludgeoning and stabbing of her husband, Jacques, for the twin motives of illicit love and money. The defense maintains that Mossler, head of a $33-million banking and loan empire, made innumerable enemies, any one of whom could have plunged a knife into him 39 times on June 30, 1964, in his Key Biscayne apartment.

Mrs. Mossler was away at the time, and Powers is depicted by the state as the actual killer.

The spicy trial testimony has sent the always-crowded courtroom into occasional spasms of mirth. Thursday it reached the point where Circuit Judge George Schulz warned spectators, including winter tourists from all over the nation: "I don't want to clear the courtroom. But we're not putting on a show here for anybody."

Mrs. Mossler and Powers have kept aloof from one another since the trial began Jan. 18. Thursday, however, they were closeted with their lawyers in a small anteroom off the courtroom during a recess.

Star state witness Thursday was Gene L. Owens, a slender dark-haired man with a dry voice. He said he once worked for Mossler and in March 1964, became manager of Powers' trailer sales firm in Houston, Texas.

The heart of his testimony was that Powers once told him of Mrs. Mossler and her husband: "He said Mr. Mossler kept her nervous and upset. He said he loved her and that he ought to kill the old s.o.b."

Business wasn't too brisk at the trailer firm, Owens said, and Powers was facing a credit blacklist when Mrs. Mossler agreed to loan him $8,000. That was about three months before the slaying.

STILL ON TOP—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky is maintaining his hold on the South Vietnamese government despite recurrent reports of plotting by dissident military officers to unseat him.

HELEN HELP US!

"Dear Jane" Letter

Dear Helen: You hear a lot about "Dear John" letters to men in the service, but how about the "Dear Jane" letters? My husband is in the service overseas, and in a combat zone so our baby daughter and I can not join him. When he left he loved us dearly. He tried every to get home to us. Then he did not write for a whole month.

Well, I got a letter last week. It was very cold and distant. He said he has had his overseas time extended six months. Some thing or someone has changed his mind. Can you tell who to contact so I can find out the reason for this family break-up?

—Heartbroken "Jane"

Dear Heartbroken: Before you write to ANYONE (except long, loving letters to your husband) be sure you know the facts. Perhaps his time overseas was extended and his disappointment made his letter sound "cold and distant." Maybe, like many men he doesn't know HOW to write a love letter.

When a man is in a combat zone he hasn't much time for writing OR loving. I think you would regret it mightily if you bombarded his commanding officer or chaplain with suspicions as ungrounded as yours apparently are.

Cheer up and "will" him home safely. — H.

Dear Helen: A gal wrote how shocked she was to see teenagers walking home from school barefooted, their shoes in their hands. In summer weather.

Why? It saves shoe leather and averts blisters. There's nothing degrading about bare feet, and my teens can shed their shoes anytime they want to (except at church, etc.) At age 36, I'm still barefooted about three fourths of the time, and that includes running down to the store on the corner. And no, I'm not "pore folks." My husband owns a shoestore — Bar Foot Forward.

Pay For Baby Sitting Grandmothers

Dear Helen: I believe a lot of grandparents wish they had the nerve to write this:

Why in the world don't we get PAID by our children for baby sitting their children? They do not think twice about paying for outside help when they can't get a hold of us. Grandma L.B.H.

Dear Young Parents everywhere: Where this: Don't expect hours of free baby sitting without giving something in return. (But sometimes a session with paint brush or garden tools is much more appreciated than a check.) — H.

Basketball Providing Good TV Script

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The college basketball season is providing a good backlog for movie or TV scripts. There have been more closing-second heroics than in many seasons.

Last Saturday, for instance, Dennis Kloeke of Washington State, sank two free throws in the last five seconds to beat UCLA. Rick Whelan of Oregon State got a last second basket to beat Stanford. Corky Bell of Chicago Loyola did the same thing to defeat Marquette. John Howard's jump shot with three seconds to go enabled Cincinnati to down Louisville and Dick Nemelka of Brigham Young scored in the last 11 seconds to down Utah.

The pattern continued Thursday night. Duke's Jack Marin tossed in two free throws in the closing seconds to seal a 78-74 victory for the second-ranked Blue Devils over North Carolina State. Unbeaten Texas Western, No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll, had to go overtime before beating Arizona 81-72 for its 17th straight. Harvey Fox of Arizona forced the extra period with a jump shot in the last minute that tied the score at 67-67.

St. Louis whipped Tulsa 69-63, knocking the Hurricane out of first place in the wideopen Missouri Valley Conference race. Cincinnati and Bradley moved into a tie for first place by defeating Wichita 93-76 and North Texas 102-90, respectively.

Cincinnati and Bradley each are 6-3 in MVC competition now. Tulsa 4-3 followed by Drake and St. Louis tied at 5-4. Louisville, 4-5, downed Drake 57-53.

A capacity turnout of 12,400 at Raleigh saw Duke, upset by West Virginia Tuesday, rebound for its road victory over the Wolfpack. Eddie Biedenbach got 22 points for State, but missed a shot in the closing seconds that would have tied the score at 78-78. Marin's two free throws then put the Blue Devils, No. 1 in the country until this week, out of danger.

Texas Western went on a 10-1 spree with the score tied at 71-71 in the overtime, for its home-court victory over Arizona. Bobby Joe Hill, whose final-second basket beat Colorado State U. last Friday, led the Miners with 18 points. Ted Pickett topped the Wildcats with 19.

Selection of Winner Was a Surprise

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Charley Winner, like always, inherited another tough job Thursday: making the St. Louis Cardinals National Football League champions.

He made it clear his idea of a solution was hard work, which he intends to pass on to his players.

Winner was the surprise selection by co-owners Charles and William Bidwill as head coach for a team that disappointed with a 5-9 record for fifth place in the Eastern Division last season.

"We can win here, but it won't be easy," Winner said. "It will take hard work on everybody's part."

"We're going to go to work the first day of camp, so the players will have to be ready when they report. If they're not, they'll pay the price."

Winner comes to the Cardinals after 12 years as an assistant coach with the Baltimore Colts of the Western Division. He is 41.

The Colts won three division titles and two championships during that time, but the one they lost this year may have been Winner's best coaching job. When Baltimore lost its two quarterbacks because of injuries, Winner's defensive unit rose to the occasion and almost snared the title anyway.

Before that, the 5-foot-7 Winner, charged around linemen as a halfback at Washington University of St. Louis under Coach Webb Ewbank, now his father-in-law.

Winner signed a two-year pact with the Cardinals. He wants Cardinals' defensive coach Chuck Drulis back and wanted to talk to assistants Ray Prochaska and Fran Polsfoot about staying on.

Draft Reject Clay May Get Called

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — It looks like heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, the nation's most famous draft reject, may serve in the armed forces after all.

Clay, who was floored twice before by the mental test, said Thursday night that he had gotten the reclassification papers.

"Under new standards given us by the Army," said the chairman of his Louisville draft board, "I don't see any reason why Clay won't be acceptable for the draft."

The 24-year-old heavyweight champion, now training for a title bout March 29 against Ernie Terrell in Chicago, said: "I don't know what all this stuff means. I just saw they said I was considered okay for the draft. I don't know what happens now."

"I just roll with the punches," Clay could be called as early as next month. But J. Allen Sherman, chairman of Clay's draft board, said in Louisville:

"There's no way of knowing if Clay would be in our March quota. It would be pure speculation at this time."

The Louisville board meets against next Thursday to consider reclassification.

"The Army now says it will accept a high school graduate who scored more than 16 points (on the mental exam)," Sherman said. Clay meets both requirements," he said.

After Clay flunked the mental exam twice in January 1964, he was classified 1-Y and not eligible for the draft. But the increased demands of the war in Viet Nam have forced the Selective Service to lower its standards.

Thousands of others across the country who were previously in the 1-Y classification also are eligible now.

It is possible Clay might be in basic training by the time the date for the March 29 bout with Terrell rolls around.

Terrell could not be reached for comment Thursday night. He will be 27 in April and thus beyond the age limits of the present draft calls.

NEW YORK (AP) — Chick Werner, director of the U.S. Track and Field Federation, was almost apologetic — unnecessarily so — when he was discussing the field for tonight's first USTFF invitation.

"There are those who think we have a good card," Werner said. "There are those who think the card is lacking."

The meet has Jim Ryun. And that alone is almost enough to insure success.

At 19, the tall, leggy Kansan already is considered by many to be this country's best miler. He was an Olympian at 17. At 18 he beat the great Peter Snell in an outdoor race and set the American record at a phenomenal 3:53.3. Now, at 19, a freshman at Kansas, he is still developing, eyeing even greater achievements.

"I'm not saying it will be me," the modest youngster said, "but someday soon someone is going to run under 3:50."

He won't run a 3:50 tonight, but he certainly ranks a good chance at reeling off the first sub-four mile of the indoor season. He's done a 4:02.1 indoor already this year and is improving rapidly.

His chief competition in probably the top attraction of the night is expected to come from Bob Delaney of Brigham Young, Kansas John Camien and Canada's Ergas Lepis.

The two-mile also could be a good one, featuring Gerry Lindgren, a Washington State sophomore who also is making his first Eastern start of the season. Lindgren, another Olympian as a teen-ager, has been around 8:34 this year and is a threat to turn in the best two-mile of the season.

Tom Laris of New York and Eamon O'Reilly of Georgetown are his chief opponents.

The meet, held with the cooperation and sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union under the terms of a truce now existing among the warring factions of track and field, has only a scattering of foreigners, chiefly Canadians.

Porkers Sign 6 More Players

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas signed six more Arkansans and two Texas football players to pre-enrollment applications Thursday.

Assistant Coach Wilson Matthews signed the six state athletes—J. B. Pendergraft and Rick Kersey of Conway, Dewey Crow and Harry Sylar of Holly Grove, Preston Hamilton of Lonoke and Dennis Berner of Little Rock.

The two Texans who signed were quarterback Mike Padlock and center Mike Campbell, both of Permian High of Odessa.

Good Baseball Outfielders Get $52,000

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What is the worth of a baseball player who batted .302, hit 24 home runs and drove in 88 runs last year?

About $52,000, say the Pirates, Braves, Reds, Indians and Red Sox.

That's the average estimated 1966 salary of five star outfielders who signed contracts Thursday. Roberto Clemente, Hank Aaron, Vada Pinson, Rocky Colavito and Tony Conigliaro.

The .302 average, 24 homers and 88 RBI represent their average performance in 1965, but individually they stood out even more.

Clemente, Pirates, won the National League batting championship for the third time and second year in a row, hitting 329. He also rapped 10 homers and drove in 63 runs.

Aaron, Braves, led the NL in doubles with 40 while batting .318, hitting 32 homers and knocking in 89 runs.

Pinson, Reds, finished the season with a 27-game batting streak, longest in the NL in 1965. During the streak he batted .372 and wound up at .305. He homered 22 times and drove across 94 runs.

Colavito, Indians, topped the American League with 108 RBI while hitting .287 and 26 homers. Conigliaro, Red Sox, was the AL's home run leader, youngest ever in either league, with 32. He batted .269 and drove in 82 runs.

Conigliaro, at 21 the youngest of the five, accordingly will be the lowest paid of the five. He is expected to receive about $25,000 while Colavito's salary is put at $68,000, Aaron $65,000, Clemente $60,000 and Pinson $40,000.

Another slugger, Chicago Cubs outfielder Billy Williams, also signed his contract. Terms were not disclosed. Williams, 27, batted .315 and hit 34 homers last year. He had 108 RBI.

Several other notables signed for the 1966 season. Included were Baltimore's Wally Bunker and Sam Bowens, rookie stars of 1964 who slumped badly last season.

Bunker dropped from a 19-5 record and AL Rookie Pitcher of the Year to 10-8 while outfielder Bowens skidded from 22 homers and 71 RBI to seven homers and 20 RBI.

Dick Radatz, Boston's huge relief pitcher who also signed, also slumped last year. He won nine games and lost 11 for a 3.92 earned run average after compiling a 16-9 and 2.29 record the year before.

Bobcats Can Move Up With Win Tonight

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sports Writer

The revived Hope Bobcats travel to Smackover tonight for a District 4AA bout with the Battlin' Buckaroos before playing host to the Magnolia Panthers in Jones Field House Saturday.

If all goes well and the Cats can knock off both weekend opponents they will jump into a tie for second place in the District standings.

Currently Crossett seems to have a tight hold on first place having lost only once and that was to the Bobcats. Smackover is in sole possession of second position with a won-lost record of 5-2.

There is a three way tie for third among Hope, Arkadelphia, and Warren. Each of these teams has lost on three occasions.

A victory over the Bucks will put the Cats in a deadlock for second with the Smackover boys.

But this won't come easily since Buckaroos hold one of the three wins over Hope this season.

Recalling that loss to Smackover it is remembered that it came right in the big middle of an early season slump. In fact it was the second game of the conference schedule and the Cats were winless.

The other two losses were at the hand of Fairview and Arkadelphia. The Bobcats repaid Fairview in full just last Saturday night in Jones Field House 67-60. And now if the locals can get by Smackover the state will be set for the final vengeance match with Arkadelphia next Friday.

In the meantime if someone slips up on Crossett things might really go topsy turvy with as many as five teams bidding for the top rung in District 4AA.

But back to this weekend. Tomorrow night's bout with Magnolia shouldn't prove too much of a feat for the Bobcats who thrashed the Panthers handily at Magnolia just one month ago 64-50.

A noted distinction for Hope this week is that two of its players are ranked one-two at the top of the individual scoring standings. Ronnie Ingram, 5-foot-9 senior guard, leads the entire district in total points scored with 154 points accounted for. This includes 64 fields and 26 free throws.

Forward Dennis Ramsey, a 6-foot-1 senior, is close behind Ronnie with a total of 147. Of these 58 were two-pointers and 31 were from the charity line.

The next closest competitor is Fairview forward Barry McMahon at 142.

The games tonight begin at 6:30 p.m. with the Jr. Boys to be followed by the Bobcat game.

This week's 4AA standings are as follows:

| TEAM | W | L |
|-------------|---|---|
| Crossett | 7 | 1 |
| Smackover | 5 | 2 |
| Hope | 5 | 2 |
| Arkadelphia | 4 | 3 |
| Warren | 4 | 3 |
| Fairview | 4 | 4 |
| Magnolia | 3 | 5 |
| Malvern | 2 | 5 |
| Camden | 0 | 8 |

Indoor Games Open Texas Track Season

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Will Rogers Indoor Games opens the Texas track season tonight with the most impressive field in its six-year history.

Five Olympians, one of the nation's collegiate hurdlers and a former Texas high school star head the assembly on the record books.

George Aldridge of Dallas, now a University of Oklahoma freshman, will challenge five other outstanding collegiate entries in the 300-yard dash. As a high school junior, Aldridge ran the state's fastest 300, a 31.4.

Clympic high jumpers John Thomas and John Rambo will duel in one of several highlights expected to attract a crowd of 7,000 to Will Rogers Coliseum.

Rambo (leaped 12 ft. 2 inches in the Los Angeles Invitational while Thomas, who he's scaled the 7-foot barrier 174 times, has done a top of 6-10 this year.

Other attractions are the mile, featuring Jim Grelle, and the pole vault, with John Pennel.

Abilene Christian's 880 ace, Charles Christmas, is a good bet to lead Grelle to the fastest indoor mile time ever in Texas.

Grelle did the mile in 4:00.9 at Los Angeles and 4:02.8 in Seattle this year.

Pennel, the first man ever to vault 17 feet outdoors, said he is gunning for that same mark here.

He hit 16-9½ at Los Angeles, eclipsing the accepted indoor mark of 16-8½.

Griffith Has First Crack at Dick Tiger

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti, Joey Archer, Jose Gonzalez and Don Fullmer can take their place in line. Emile Griffith, the welterweight champ, gets first crack at Dick Tiger's middleweight crown.

The Tiger-Griffith match of champions, set for Monday, April 25, at Madison Square Garden, is an attractive pairing of two men who like to walk in and punch. However, it does leave the top challengers in the 160-pound class on the outside looking in.

Archer, the clever New Yorker, was supposed to be in line for this title shot until he lost a recent bout to Don Fullmer, Gene's young brother, in Boston. Benvenuti, the unbeaten Italian, whipped Fullmer in Rome a week ago.

"We were negotiating for the Tiger-Archer match," said Teddy Brenner, Garden matchmaker, "until Joey lost to Fullmer in Boston. Then I suggested a match with Jose Gonzalez March 18 but Archer turned it down although I told him the winner would meet the Tiger-Archer match at 12 rounds."

Actually, the Tiger-Griffith match had been almost a sure thing for several weeks. The Garden had hoped to put it on as the second half of a March 29 double feature topped by Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell. The New York State Athletic Commission ruined those plans when it refused to license Terrell. Then Chicago stepped in and grabbed the bout.

Lew Burston, Tiger's representative, indicated he would be willing to take on Benvenuti in Italy after the Griffith match. In the meantime the 36-year-old Nigerian has a Feb. 18 over-the-weight date with Peter Muller in Dortmund, Germany.

Hello Dolly Cast Deeply Affected

EDITOR'S NOTE—During his six months in Viet Nam, AP Newswriter Hugh Mulligan reported on the 10-day tour of the war zone by the "Hello, Dolly!" troupe. Returning home last month, he stopped off in London and Las Vegas to visit with members of the cast who had been split up into two separate companies of the durable musical. He found the experience of playing in Viet Nam had affected them deeply.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writer
Backstage between shows at Las Vegas's Riviera Hotel, listening to the cranking slot machines and the whirling roulette wheels, dark-eyed singer Susan Mera dreamed out loud of an aircraft hangar in South Viet Nam with sandbag seats and a stage made of Air Force ammunition trailers and a cheering audience of thousands and thousands of soldiers and airmen. "I'd go back in a minute," said the Houston, Tex., beauty. "So would all the rest. It was the greatest experience of our lives."

Then for no reason at all, or maybe for every reason in the world, she burst into tears.

Six thousand miles away, across a continent and an ocean, actress Marilyn Lovell sat in her dressing room in London's Drury Lane Theater staring fondly at a plaque given to her by Gen. William C. Westmoreland for outstanding contributions to the morale of the American fighting men in Viet Nam.

"This means more to me," she said, "than any line any critic ever wrote."

A few dressing rooms up the hall, star Marty Martin had a similar plaque in a place of honor on her dressing table, framed by huge bouquets of roses and a congratulatory telegram from the President of the United States.

"I'm proud to have been there," said the star. "Yet nothing in life can make you feel more humble. What we gave them was nothing to what they gave back to us."

More than three months after coming back from Viet Nam, the stars, singers and dancers of "Hello, Dolly!" the first Broadway musical to play in a war zone, were still enthralled by the experience.

"It touched our lives in so many ways," said dancer Susan Freeman, a fetching blonde from Jacksonville, Fla., with the Las Vegas company. "None of us who went on that tour came back the same. We left something of ourselves out there and brought something back: maybe a new understanding of what our profession is all about."

Dancer Eileen Casey, a brunette beauty from Boston, felt the troupe's reaction to the 10-day tour of Viet Nam last fall went beyond the go-flattering feeling that every actress has for an appreciative audience.

"It was more than just the thunderous applause and hearty laughter that only men can give and the standing ovations day after day," she said. "It was a feeling of actually being needed. No other audience ever gave us that."

Even by Broadway's bizarre standards, the road company of "Hello, Dolly!" that opened in Minneapolis on April 19, 1965, with Mary Martin as star had an unusual history and an even more unusual geography. Producer David Merrick formed the company specifically to make a tour of Japan and the Soviet Union sponsored by the State Department.

"Instead, when the Russians canceled out, 'Hello, Dolly!' wound up in Viet Nam, playing to thousands of servicemen in stifling heat in the wool and velvet costumes made for the London company and against a constant background of roaring jets and beating helicopter blades.

"More than half the company balked at going to Viet Nam," revealed Bob Hultman, a lead singer from Grand Rapids, Mich. "Some because they were frankly afraid; some for political reasons. Now they're all trying to get back in some way with USO shows or on their own."

QUICK QUIZ
Q—Who was the last emperor of India?
A—King George VI of England, who relinquished the title in 1948.

Q—Where was helium first discovered?
A—in the spectrum of the sun.

Q—What is the legend regarding the Glastonbury thorn tree?
A—Legend has it that the original thorn tree grew from the staff of Joseph of Arimathea, who brought Christianity to the British Isles.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Heart Palpitations Are Not Necessarily Serious

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Whenever I exert myself I get a fast, uneven palpitation of my heart. It only lasts a minute or two. Could this have any significance?

A—Exertion will normally cause an increase in the rate and force of your heart beat. Palpitation is an acute awareness of your heart action. Your uneven beats are most likely skipped beats.

If your palpitation and skipping lasts only a minute or two, that is a good sign. Some people have them all day. I would say, therefore, that these symptoms are probably of no significance but, if you are past 40, it is wise to have a physical checkup once a year including an electrocardiogram.

Q—Sometimes I get a nasty feeling in the pit of my stomach, then my heart skips beats. What causes this skipping and what is the best treatment for it? My blood pressure is 160/100. Should I take blood pressure pills?

A—in most persons skipped beats are of no significance. They may be caused by excessive smoking or they may be without apparent cause. No treatment is necessary for the skipped beats, but you do need treatment for your blood pressure. When the lower reading, which represents your blood pressure when your heart is resting between beats, goes to 100 or more it is abnormally high. Prompt treatment will prevent serious complications.

Q—I get attacks of tachycardia that last four or five days. On the third day I have nausea and pains in my abdomen. What causes this and is there any remedy for it?

A—Nausea and abdominal pain are not usual accompaniments of tachycardia (rapid heart action) but all three symptoms are commonly associated with nervous tension. Since three days of tachycardia is enough to make anyone jittery the added tension may upset your digestive system. If your doctor can rule out serious organic disease he may want to give you a short course of a tranquilizer. If you can arrange your activities so as to avoid emotional turmoil that would be the best remedy of all.

Q—What would cause my fingers to tingle and turn white when I sew or write? I have to rub them to restore the circulation. This is always worse in cold weather.

A—This sounds like a mild Raynaud's disease. Your doctor should, however, rule out pernicious anemia and an excessive production of insulin by your pancreas.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Lansdale Says Less Than Rest

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — What's happened to Lansdale?

That question is frequently asked in Saigon these days.

The man himself, retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Edward G. Lansdale, a near-legendary American operative in Southeast Asia, has the least to say about it.

Lansdale is in Viet Nam indefinitely at the request of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Since he arrived five months ago, the 57-year-old "senior liaison officer" and his 11 hand-picked aides have deliberately avoided contact with newsmen, working quietly out of an old French villa in a Saigon suburb. The anonymity is just starting to pay off.

When he arrived he told newsmen he was here to assist in "a noble cause." He apparently meant he would do all he could to bring out the best in Vietnamese people fighting communism.

Lansdale had helped the late Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay do this, and, for a while, the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Lansdale works intimately with Lodge. Both are known to be concerned about the extent the military program has overrun the civilian one in Viet Nam, and the de-emphasis of the counter insurgency program in favor of conventional tactics. They are trying to redress the balance.

Lansdale has no announced over-all program. He is here as a catalyst in a land that is weary of politics and war, one of his aides said, adding:

"You could call his missions an attempt to inspire the Vietnamese as enthusiastic in their efforts as the Viet Cong are."

Labor Isn't Pleased With White House

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor, once an acknowledged prime mover behind President Johnson, is deep in the winter of its discontent with the White House and Democrats.

And unless Johnson and Congress thaw the growing chill, the Democratic party could lose a major slice of labor's support when it needs it — in this year's congressional elections.

Altogether, labor union members and their families pack the potential political wallop of at least 35 million voters. This compared with the total of 70,000,000 votes cast in the 1964 balloting that resulted in Johnson's landslide victory and the biggest Democratic majority in Congress in nearly 30 years.

Labor's complaint against the way the political winds are blowing in the capital is threefold:

— Union chiefs think Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has been dragging his feet on the bill to repeal Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act. This is the section which sanctions laws in 19 states banning union shop contracts, under which all employees must join the union.

— Johnson's statement to Congress that he is considering some kind of antislrike legislation to deal with labor disputes that threaten "irreparable harm" to the national interest. Labor leaders have been trying to figure out what he may have in mind.

— Johnson's refusal to hike White House wage guidelines from 3.2 to 3.6 per cent in line with latest national production figures. The guidelines set the size of wage increases acceptable to the White House as noninflationary.

Johannes Brahms did not compose any operas.

One of my regular correspondents writes: "The game was duplicate. I opened the queen of diamonds against the four-spade contract. South won with the ace, led a diamond to dummy's king and ruffed a third diamond to set up the last two diamonds in dummy. Then she went into a huddle and laid down the ace of spades. There went my singleton king. After that brilliant play, South drew the rest of my partner's trumps and led a club toward dummy's king. The best I could do was to take the ace and lead a heart to my partner to hold declarer to five-odd. The result did not seem too bad to me at the time but when the scores came out no one else had made five spades. It seems that all other spade declarers had led a heart at trick two. Invariably the declarer's spade queen lost to West's singleton king. Did my opponent play extra well or was she extra lucky?"

We just don't know. There are certain hands that present alternate lines of play that are so nearly equal that it is up to declarer to play them as he sees them. Off-hand, the line of play that produced 11 tricks does not appear to have been too good. South needed to break the diamonds 3-3; pick that singleton king of spades and find the ace of clubs in the West hand for his play to work, but if you study the hand carefully, the South players who led the heart at trick two would have had to find the king of spades doubled in the East hand so that they would be able to pick it up after one finesse. They had obviously planned to ruff their third heart if the finesse worked.

Nevertheless, we think our friend was unlucky because there was a third line of play which was for South to lead the heart at trick two and then to refuse the spade finesse. This also would have produced five-odd.

TODAY'S QUESTION You bid three diamonds and your partner bids three spades. What do you do now?

Own Script by Officials of Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Had conference officials prepared their own script, they would have been hard-pressed to top the torrid battle being waged in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race. The league is heading for an exciting finish in the race for individual scoring honors, plus a hot battle for the team title. Jim Haney and Ronnie Brown, a pair of sophomores, are fighting for the scoring honors.

Haney is setting the pace with an average of 20.7 points per game for Arkansas College. Brown, the leader earlier in the season, was giving strong pursuit with an average of 19.9 points a game.

Tommy Key, Arkansas A&M's ace, remained in contention with an 18.3 average. Ironically, none of the leaders represent the two teams still in contention for the AIC championship — Southern State and Arkansas State Teachers.

The Muleriders hold a one-game lead over ASTC and each team has three games remaining.

A&M's Danny McCauley clings to a slight edge in conference rebounding statistics with an average of 11.6 per game. However, Jerry Gatling of Arkansas Tech and Jim Peppers of Henderson State have 11.4 averages.

Pressure on NLF to Ease Its Demands

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is seeking to put diplomatic pressure on North Viet Nam to modify its demand that the Communist National Liberation Front — NLF — must represent South Viet Nam in any peace negotiations.

President Johnson has sent word to interested foreign governments that the demand made by North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh is wholly unacceptable and has created an obstacle to efforts to arrange a peace conference.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, envoy to the United Nations, said after a two-hour meeting with Johnson Thursday that U.S. policy is flexible on the issue of an NLF role in negotiations. The NLF is the political arm of the Communist guerrilla forces.

"We will bargain on that at the conference table," Goldberg told reporters. But he emphasized that the demand which Ho made public Jan. 28 is unacceptable to the United States, and he made clear it would have to be modified if the issue is to be resolved.

Johnson briefed Goldberg on his meeting in Hawaii earlier this week with the leaders of South Viet Nam, then sent him back to U.N. headquarters in New York to renew his efforts with Secretary-General U Thant and members of the Security Council as well as representatives of other countries to find some way to bring the Vietnamese war to a close.

While Goldberg was meeting with Johnson, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee heard from George F. Kennan, former State Department Soviet affairs expert in its inquiry into U. S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Both Kennan and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, expressed fears this week's U.S.-South Vietnamese declaration in Honolulu may have raised an added obstacle to a negotiated peace.

"It seems to me we have further committed ourselves to a point where any sort of a negotiated settlement, short of outright victory, could be called a betrayal of a commitment," Fulbright said.

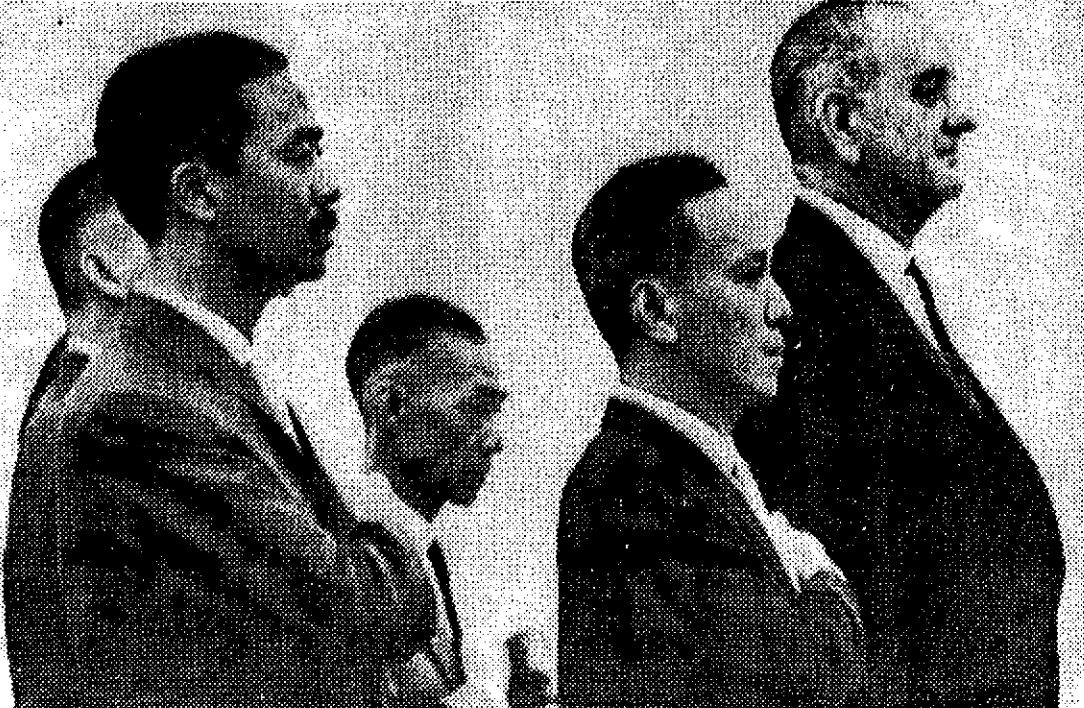

Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, added: "It gives me a very, very uneasy feeling to read the joint declaration to which we have subscribed."

"It does seem to me that if we want to develop the utmost prospect of a peaceful solution, we should have maintained the independence of our position."

Both men indicated they feel the South Vietnamese leaders are more interested in military victory than in economic, social and humane positions stressed by U.S. officials.

Earlier, Kennan said that adopting a strong defensive position while letting the war simmer might convince the Communists "they cannot dislodge us. If they cannot dislodge us they will have to talk to us, because they want us out."

Her head hurts, her chest and stomach ache and her nose is painfully sensitive.

Her trouble began shortly after she was treated in a hospital for a kidney infection.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

By Dr. Charles Johnson

The danger of high blood pressure lies in the fact that the condition is usually well advanced before symptoms reveal themselves. Some of the prominent symptoms are dizziness, headaches, a feeling of fullness in the head, redness and irritation of the eyes, and shortness of breath. Most cases of high blood pressure are caused by nerve irritation therefore respond very favorably to Chiropractic care. If your condition has not responded to other forms of healing and treatments, let us determine if you are a Chiropractic case. First Martins Here Judicial Scandal in Oklahoma

Here we go again with a bird note—sure sign that Spring is just around the corner for Arklatex country.

Dub Flowers, J. B. Cook Auto Machine Co. manager, brought me an oral message yesterday from Kenneth Cox of the Fulton Cox brothers, Cecil and Kenneth. The report, just this: Two purple martins arrived in Fulton yesterday. So the warbling host is returning from South America.

Owners of purple-martin boxes in Hope have reported February arrivals in the past, but this is the first of 1966 that I know of. The "dags" that put up at my houses — I now have two with 18 apartments each — never get here until March. However, I'll be checking daily from now on.

And this reminder: If you haven't cleaned out your martin box lately do so at once. For all you know, some sparrows have set up light housekeeping — and for an odd reason the warlike martin will go somewhere else rather than run the sparrows out.

Disgrace to the West
Faith in ability of Americans to govern themselves, by electing qualified and honest men to public office, is basic to the survival of a free land.

Oklahoma voters are surely embarrassed, and the cause of good government hurt by scandals revealed in that state. Bribery, corruption and moral laxity up to the highest level of the state judiciary has been revealed.

A news source states that the "startled voters learned that for a quarter of a century some decisions in the State Supreme Court were bought and sold like a crop of cotton" and "a grand jury reported that thousands of dollars were poured into the pockets of some state legislators by special interests seeking special privilege."

Not alone are the office holders blamed. The state's attorney rightfully commented that "you can't have payoffs without people — professional men, business men, vested interest groups — putting up the pennies and nickels."

The sad affairs in Oklahoma state were unveiled by an investigation of the state Supreme Court. When the investigation had ended a justice was impeached for taking $10,000 in bribes; another resigned before the investigating committee recommended impeachment on a like count, a former mayor was convicted for perjury in denying dealings with judges, and a former jurist admitted taking bribes 30 years ago, and implicated three officials in one $150,000 payoff.

It is a sadder commentary upon our times that the public is little concerned about corruption in government; sadder because so many shrug the shoulders and pass it off as inevitable. It may be inevitable, but it should never be accepted. This bird comes home to the voter — we get what we ask for.

17 Greeks Are Out of Jail

ATHENS (AP) — Seventeen Greek political prisoners were released from an island jail Wednesday night under a clemency law approved by Parliament last week.

They are the first to be freed of 96 Communists sentenced for espionage in the past decade. The others will be released progressively.

Most of the prisoners have been serving sentences of 10 to 20 years. Some were sentenced to death or life imprisonment. The sentences are being commuted.

15 Sentenced in Leopoldville

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Authorities today were evacuating the Quetta area of West Pakistan after two more earthquakes which killed at least 11 persons and injured 40.

Masood Mufli, a district official, said broken communications made it difficult to assess the casualties or damage in the area 370 miles north of Karachi. When the quakes began Monday, 73 villages were reported hit and five women buried beneath the heaving earth.

Traffic Deaths During 1965 Total 49,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A record toll of 49,000 traffic deaths in the United States last year was reported today by the National Safety Council.

The council said 1.8 million persons suffered disabling injuries in 1965 motor vehicle accidents. The economic loss was calculated at $9.5 billion, $5.5 billions of this in wage losses, medical expenses and overhead insurance costs.

The one bright thread in the dark pattern was the council's assertion that the rate of deaths per 100 million travel miles declined for the first time since 1961—from 5.7 in 1964 to 5.6 last year. This compared with a 1945 rate of 11.3.

Council statisticians computed a 5 per cent rise in the total number of vehicle-miles last year, 880 billion.

Nevertheless, the total of deaths last year was 3 per cent greater than the former record of 47,700 in 1964.

Another deadly record was reflected in the December toll last year when 4,940 persons were killed — 10 per cent more than the 4,490 of December 1964.

In terms of deaths per 10,000 registered motor vehicles, the 1965 total of accident deaths was up—from 2.7 in 1964 to 2.9.

The death record and the rates per 10,000 registered vehicles were based directly upon experience records supplied to the council by state and municipal governments. The vehicle travel rate, a spokesman said, was computed with cooperation of the Federal Bureau of Roads, largely upon actual domestic use of motor fuels and calculations involving miles per gallon achievement of various types of vehicles and their numbers in state and federal vehicle records.

Howard Pyle, president of the Safety Council, said the slight reduction of deaths in terms of vehicle travel offered some encouragement to motorists and safety officials.

"But, we must also reverse the steady increases in numbers of men, women and children who are killed every year in traffic accidents," he said. There is, Pyle said, no "easy, cheap, quick answer to our traffic problems."

The council has urged an 18-point national program which Pyle said could slash the annual toll in half. Seven points call for actions which must be pressed by the federal government, such as use of existing legislation to spur engineering of safer vehicles and increasing financial incentives for traffic research.

Americans Earn Billions and Waste or Discard Enough to Keep Nation in Comfort

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans earn hundreds of billions of dollars a year.

We loose on a naved world a tidal flood of products. We waste or discard enough to keep another population our size in comfort.

But what keeps our gigantic system functioning? What fuels our whole economy? What really primes the pump?

It isn't the Federal Reserve System. It isn't all the gold in Ft. Knox. It isn't even the installment plan.

It is the office $5 bill, the white collar class cushion of safety.

It is a wonder that the big-brained economists haven't yet discovered the importance of the office $5 bill to the U.S. business structure. It plays the same role that cigarettes did in parts of ravaged Europe after World War II.

Remember the story?

Commerce was at a standstill in one German village because no kind of money was trusted. Then an American passing through town gave a cigarette to a German.

A cigarette! Here was something of known value and real scarcity. The man took it to his butcher and traded it for a pound of meat.

The butcher took the cigarette to a cobbler and had his shoes repaired. The cobbler took it to a glazier who fixed his bonnet-out window. The glazier traded it to a storekeeper for a pair

Warns Conflict Could Result

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
JAIPUR, India (AP) — Indian Defense Minister Y.B. Chavan warned today that renewed guerrilla activity in Kashmir would lead to another armed conflict between India and Pakistan.

Chavan told the ruling Congress party, assembled here for its national convention, that some Indians had questioned whether the Tashkent agreement signed last month by India and Pakistan guaranteed that the infiltration of guerrillas into Kashmir last summer would not be repeated.

"I think there is a guarantee," he said, but he warned: "If the infiltrators repeat what they did, India will repeat what she did."

Shadow Cast on Other Union Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sidetracking of the union shop bill casts a shadow over two other measures strongly backed by the AFL-CIO.

The other two would boost the minimum wage and apply it to more workers and increase unemployment.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who directed the filibuster which blocked repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, indicated that he might use the same tactics against the other two measures. Section 14B allows states to ban union shop contracts under which covered employees must join the union. Nineteen states ban such contracts.

Asked by a reporter if he believed the minimum wage and unemployment compensation measures should be filibustered, Dirksen replied, "I feel equally strongly about them."

He added that he would not say definitely, however, until he knew the final form of the bills. Backers of the 14B repeal bill failed again Thursday in their attempt to invoke cloture and thus choke off the filibuster which has blocked efforts since Jan. 24 to bring the measure before the Senate.

The vote was 50 for cloture and 49 against, 16 short of the required two-thirds. This was one vote less for cloture than was cast in a cloture test Tuesday.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield dropped his motion to bring up the bill after Thursday's vote and said that, so far as he knew now, the legislation was dead for this session.

However, Democratic leaders consider the two other labor bills to be very much alive. President Johnson has recommended action on them as he did on the union shop bill.

Youthful Foes of U.S. Viet Nam Policy Work to Shape a National Left Wing Party

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Militant young foes of U.S. policy in Viet Nam—people who call themselves the new left—are working to shape a national political organization out of their protest and peace forces.

"This is what I call political guerrilla warfare," said California Rep. Jeffrey Cohelan, a Democrat, and self-described liberal who has seen his Oakland home office besieged by demonstrators. "They've picked me as a target," he said.

Cohelan's son, in the eyes of the challengers, is general support of President Johnson's policy on South Viet Nam.

Cohelan said in an interview he is "more dove than hawk," that escalation of the war would be "absolutely mad," but that the United States should not now withdraw.

Immediate withdrawal from Viet Nam is the new left rallying cry, but Paul Booth, a 22-year-old leader in the new political movement, said its goals go far beyond the war issue.

Booth, of Chicago, is national secretary of Students for a Democratic Society. He said the new political operation, built around that organization and others like it, will be called the National Conference for New Politics.

While its organizers said the conference has not yet pinpointed its election-day targets, Booth said his own organization is already at work for Robert Scheer, who has said he will oppose Cohelan.

"Even though Cohelan has a pretty good voting record," Booth said, "a lot of people on the left see the campaign as building an organization."

Booth added: "People on the left are saying to guys like Cohelan, it's not enough just to cast the right votes on some of these things."

"These programs, these welfare programs, are not really very exciting. They don't really solve the problem."

"It's more important to raise these political issues, and to build an organization. Maybe Scheer won't win, but in two years we'll be stronger within the party."

Scheer, who advocates an immediate U.S. pullout in Viet Nam, has said he will run as an independent next November if he does not win the Democratic congressional nomination in the June 7 primary.

The national Democratic party is not worried about the new political movement, one official there said—but "that doesn't mean that there won't be friends of President Johnson who will step in if it is necessary."

Hays Named V-Chairman of Red Cross

Thomas E. Hays, Jr.

Thomas E. Hays Jr., of Hope has been named state Red Cross vice-chairman for the Union County District, according to an announcement today by Wayne Cranford of Little Rock, Red Cross volunteer national vice-chairman for Arkansas.

As a volunteer worker, Hays will be in charge of organizing Union, Calhoun, Clark, Columbia, Hempstead, LaFayette, Nevada and Ouachita counties as part of the 1966 Red Cross drive for funds.

Hays is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and the Storer Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers. He is president of First National Bank of Hope and is also treasurer of the Arkansas Bankers Association.

Other vice-chairmen throughout the state besides Hays are Gary C. Lawrence of Fort Smith, Adrian White of Pocahontas, Bill J. Ford of Benton, David K. Lynch of Springdale, George Severson of Peel, Mrs. Doris McCastlain of Little Rock, Hubert L. Ferguson of Conway, Lunford Bridges of Pine Bluff, and Mrs. Louise Bowker and Fred Schmutz, both of Little Rock who will be in charge of public information.

In listing the areas of emphasis is considered most important this year by the Red Cross, Cranford said that the war in South Viet Nam had called for "a tremendous outlay of funds to support the increased needs of our armed forces, and a large scale disaster wrought by Hurricane Betsy has exhausted the Red Cross Disaster Fund."

Cranford, who was appointed to his post by Robert W. Sar-noff of New York, president of the Radio Corporation of America who is also American Red Cross national chairman, said that Red Cross expenditures in assisting families left in the aftermath of Betsy had so far amounted to $17 million.

$500 Million GI Benefits Bill to LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — A permanent GI benefits bill with an estimated eventual price tag of $500 million a year was on President Johnson's desk today after receiving final congressional approval.

Although the bill carries a higher price tag than the administration had proposed, the President was expected to sign it. It would take effect June 1.

The measure accents education and home-buying aid for all military personnel with more than six months of active duty since Jan. 31, 1955, the date benefits ceased under the Korean GI benefits measure.

Passed last year by the Senate and early this week by the House in different forms, the compromise bill scooted through the Senate Thursday by vote of 99 to 0 and was whisked to the President without a dissent after a voice vote in the House.

The administration had suggested that benefits be limited to men who serve in combat areas, instead of covering all personnel regardless of where they put in their military time. The estimated cost of the administration bill was $150 million a year.

The cost of the program is for each month of service, up to $500 million annually after five years. Its first-year cost was estimated at $335 million.

Most of the money would be for educational benefits on the basis of one month of schooling for each month of service, up to 36 months or four normal years of college study. Beneficiaries could select their own school, within limits, and would not have to be high school graduates.

Educational benefits would be paid directly to the veteran at the rate of $100 monthly for full-time schooling for a single person and $150 for those with two or more dependents. Small allotments would be paid to students who attend school less than full time, but nothing would be allowed for less than half-time students.

The schooling could be spread over a period of eight years. Veterans who have financed their own schooling since their discharge would not be reimbursed.

However, they would be eligible for private home loans up to $7,500 underwritten by the government or direct home loans up to $17,500 if private financing was not available.

Space Money for Medical Building

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The head of a spacecraft industry has donated $4 million to Washington University here for construction of a medical sciences building.

"The life sciences today represent one of the most rapidly developing lines of creative evolution on earth," said James S. McDonnell, the donor.

McDonnell, head of McDonnell Aircraft Inc., is also chairman of the university's board of trustees.

The building will contain 8700 square feet including ballroom, dining room, kitchen, snack bar, ladies locker and powder rooms, mens locker room, golf club storage, and pro shop.

The present clubhouse will be retained and will include youth recreation room and swimming locker rooms for men and women. The new clubhouse will be brick-veneer and will contain brick, paneling and glass interior with some brick floors and a fireplace.

The architect, T. G. Connolly of Magnolia, is associated with Ginocchio, Cromwell, Carter and Neyland in Little Rock. The contractor is Bobby Carroll with Carroll Building and Appliances of Murfreesboro.

Total budget for the building, furnishings, parking area, deep well and landscaping is $110,000. Being financed by three local lending institutions Citizens National Bank, First National Bank and Hope Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Completion date is around July 1.

Solutions

NEW YORK (AP) — Pity the poor President.
He gets advice by the ton — solutions none. This is Lyndon B. Johnson's dilemma in Viet Nam.

Earnest experts urge one course of action. Other earnest experts urge the opposite — sometimes simultaneously. Even U.S. allies disagree over what the President should do.

Bomb the port city of Haiphong and other "military-industrial targets in North Viet Nam," says Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam.

Britain couldn't support any Haiphong bombing, said Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London.

Hold "enclaves" while seeking peace through the United Nations or a Geneva conference, suggested Lt. Gen. James Gavin, former chief planning officer for the Army.

That would allow the Viet Cong to roam the countryside, said Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the President's military adviser. He added: The impulse to withdraw into enclaves "has much in common with the yearning for safety behind defenses at our coastlines and is equally illusory."

Such strategy would make the Viet Cong a present of most of South Viet Nam, said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Not recognizing the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, as a major party to any negotiations may be a stumbling block to peace efforts, says Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

But Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said that the front would have no difficulty making its voice heard at peace talks.

Voter Question
Before Court

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Would a voter be unduly influenced if he saw a name on a ballot that was the same as the name at the bottom of some of the dollar bills that he's had in his pocket?

The question is up to the California Supreme Court to decide. The case involves Mrs. Sidney W. Stevens, wife of a businessman. Her maiden name of Ivy Baker Priest was signed on currency when she was U.S. treasurer in the Eisenhower administration.

Mrs. Stevens wants to run for state treasurer as Ivy Baker Priest.

A Los Angeles judge ruled last December she could use her maiden name. But Roy E. Jene, Orange County attorney, contends she should use her married name, on the ground that her well-known maiden name would give her an unfair advantage at the polls.

The Supreme Court, acting on a petition by Jene, agreed Wednesday in San Francisco to hear an appeal from the Los Angeles judge's ruling.

Union Leader
Makes Furniture

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, likes to make furniture as a hobby, and the other day it caught up with him.

He cut off the tip of his ring finger and cut two other fingers of his left hand while using a power saw at his home in suburban Rochester last week. The injury was revealed when he returned to work Monday.

A portion of the first joint of Reuther's ring finger was grafted back, said Irving Bluestone, an administrative assistant.

Bluestone said a piece of wood pushed Reuther's hand into the saw.

184 Dead, Red Toll in 2 Weeks Over 2,000

By THOMAS A. REEDY
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. forces today reported another 184 Communists killed by American planes and troops, pushing claimed Communist losses in men beyond 2,000 in the past two weeks. An American spokesman said these were the highest Red casualty figures of the war.

American Air Force and Navy jets again pounded targets in North and South Viet Nam. A B-57 Skyraider became the ninth victim of Communist anti-aircraft defenses since the United States resumed the air war on the North 12 days ago.

The plane was shot down 15 miles north of the 17th Parallel Thursday by heavy flak, an A Force spokesman said. No parachute was seen by other pilots and the Navy airman was presumed killed.

The Viet Cong shot and killed an American civilian engineer operating a tractor in a jungle clearing at a rock quarry 20 miles northeast of Saigon. His partner escaped when two guerrillas leaped out of spider holes and opened fire.

A U.S. 1st Infantry Division patrol later recovered the body. The engineer was not immediately identified. He was employed by the big American R.M.K. construction combine.

The shooting occurred near the spot where the Viet Cong kidnapped two Americans, one Vietnamese and one Canadian employed by the firm in December. The Dutch-born Canadian was killed, but the three others were rescued by American troops.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, in the happy, outgoing mood of his campaign days, ventured five miles outside of Saigon to inspect a newly pacified village during a four-hour tour of government social and economic projects. He seemed oblivious to any possible danger to his life in an area where the Viet Cong roamed only a few months ago.

The vice president, who came to Saigon to emphasize President Johnson's hopes for social, political and economic reform, will probably visit American troops Saturday. He is scheduled to go on to other Asian capitals Sunday morning to explain U.S. policy.
